

Tehama Fast Facts

- Tehama is a spin-out of Paul Vallée's fourth company, Pythian, founded in 1997. Tehama was launched to the public in September of 2018 and by September of 2019, it was a totally separate, standalone company.
- Tehama's leadership & primary media spokespersons includes:
 - Founder and CEO, Paul Vallée
 - Gene Villeneuve, Chief Revenue Officer
- Tehama is based in Ottawa, Ontario Canada.
- Tehama Enterprise Desktop as a Service is the fastest, easiest, most secure way to deploy a virtual workforce.
- No other solution on the market today connects remote workers with mission-critical and data-sensitive systems, in less than an hour, with unparalleled security, and a complete audit trail.
- The Tehama platform enables enterprises to manage, onboard, and audit third-party vendors, remote teams, and freelancers by providing cloud-based, virtual desktops available on-demand, globally, with the highest possible security and compliance.
- The SaaS platform can create cloud-based virtual offices, rooms, and desktops anywhere in the world in minutes. Tehama can run in any web browser on any device, and is SOC 2 Type II-certified and ensures the highest level of security and compliance via policy controls, activity monitoring, and forensic auditing.
- Demand for the Tehama platform has surged since January due to the coronavirus, with triple the number of companies adopting it compared to the same time period in 2019.
- Tehama's vision remains the same: to enable secure exchange of work over the Internet, and thus to enable anyone to work from anywhere for any company anywhere.

- In May 2020, Tehama announced that it has raised US $10 million in a Series A round of financing led by OMERS Ventures, with participation by BDC Industrial, Clean and Energy Technology Fund.
